

Crisis Caused Allies Attempt To Slip Off Thin German Wedge

French Reoccupy Most Important Section
Of Amiens—Hundreds Of Nazi
Prisoners Taken

By M. S. HANDLER

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

PARIS, May 25.—Allied armies were reported in French press dispatches today to have cut 15 miles into the 25-mile German wedge through France and to be fighting fiercely to break the possible Nazi trap around perhaps a million British, French and Belgian troops in the north.

The German wedge into northern France is narrowest between the French town of Bapaume and the town of Peronne, which is on the Somme river. The Allied forces are fighting to hold their lines or advance southward from Bapaume, while the main French armies on the Somme are seeking to drive northward through the German wedge to Bapaume.

Yesterday the gap between them was 25 miles wide. Today, the newspaper intendant said it had been reduced to 12 miles.

Success Would Isolate German Forces

If the French can cut through this wedge, they not only would be in a position to aid the Allied armies but would isolate the German forces that rushed to the coast and could prepare the way for a stabilized front.

(Unconfirmed reports circulated in London that the Allies had deeply dented or cut through the German wedge, but the German high command said that the French blows were "feeble" and had been repulsed.)

The newspaper Paris Post reported that the French had recaptured the most important section of the city of Amiens, on the south bank of the Somme, after having destroyed a German bridgehead there. This, it was said, allowed the French in establishing a solid front along the Somme to protect their counter-thrusts from Peronne.

The British were said by intendant to hold positions from Bapaume to Arras, while French troops were moving north from the Somme between Peronne and Amiens. Belief was expressed that the gap might be closed, or progress can be maintained, in the vicinity of Combes, which is almost mid-way on a direct line between Bapaume and Peronne.

The closing of this gap, French sources said, explained the intense German attacks south of Sedan, on the Aisne and Meuse rivers, where the Nazis were attempting to force passage before they are cut off at Combes.

It also was said to explain the German assaults on the Cambrai-Evacués sector, where the Allies hold a solid front along the Escaut (Scheldt) river.

GERMANS BLOCKED
French sources said that Allied troops are also fighting German mechanized units in the Abbeville sector on the Channel, and had blocked the Germans in the St. Omer sector, east of Boulogne.

Hundreds of German prisoners have been taken prisoners in successful local attacks in the Somme valley and the Germans who had held small bridgeheads on the south bank of the river have been wiped out.

After a fierce fight, a military intendant said, the French blocked the German motorized units in the Arras region. There, the Allies are trying to force passage to protect the German right flank. Firing along the coast of the Channel, the English said, a great number of German bombs, dropped by German planes to protect the light German coastal force.

Anti-aircraft batteries in the Paris area went into action at 7:30 a.m. today, but no air raid alarm was sounded.

The morning's high command communiqué No. 529 of the war, said:

"During the action last yesterday we consolidated our position on the Boulogne front."

"During this operation we took a certain number of prisoners. There was nothing special to report throughout the night on the whole front."

Summarizing the general situation, a military source said that though there had been no appreciable change in 24 hours, the Germans were suffering from serious losses as the price of their blistering tactics.

EIGHT BRITONS ARE INJURED BY NAZI BOMB

Single German Plane
Makes 10-Minute Raid
In Yorkshire

LONDON, May 25.—Eight British citizens were injured last night by a single German bomber which made a 10-minute raid on Yorkshire.

The bomber, which was seen by witnesses, dropped a single bomb which exploded in the town of York. The bomb killed two people and injured six others. The bomber was seen to fly away towards the north.

The 10-minute raid was made by a single plane, apparently aiming at a steel plant which was slightly damaged by a bomb.

Another bomb struck a side of a north riding commercial air field, but caused no damage. Most of the bombs fell harmlessly in open spaces.

The German air attack, apparently aimed at the steel plant, was the first since the outbreak of the war in which a single bomber has made a raid on a single target.

A few German planes appeared over the northeast coast but were quickly driven away by fighter planes of the Royal Air Force.

An air ministry communiqué said: "Enemy aircraft last night dropped bombs in the north riding of Yorkshire. Eight civilians were injured, three of whom have been taken to the hospital. Some damage was done."

"Bombs also fell in rural areas in East Anglia. No casualties were caused. Slight damage to two cottages is reported."

Anti-aircraft defences were in action.

NAVY IN ACTION
While these actions were in progress, residents of the southeast coast, nearest to the continent, saw flames shoot away from the far side of the coast of heavy explosions and believed the Royal Navy was attacking.

Monday's Bulletin To Contain Results Of Puzzle Contest

Monday's issue of The Bulletin will be scanned with exceptionally keen interest for it will contain the complete list of winners in The Bulletin's Third Annual Advertisement Puzzle Contest. Payout to the lucky winners in the contest, which brought out a record number of contestants, will be in the form of distribution of $1,000 in cash and numerous valuable merchandise prizes.

So great was the response to this year's contest and so keen the competition that The Bulletin's editors, McConnell Bros. & Co., found it necessary to bring an additional week in checking and re-checking the results before the final announcement could be made.

But on Monday suspense will end.

Representation In Third Division May Be Greatly Widened

OTTAWA, May 25.—A wider representation of Canadian regional units may be found in the proposed third division if suggestions now under consideration are adopted, Defence Minister Norman Rogers told the House of Commons yesterday.

The government is giving thought to forming the third division by recruiting from each unit in a military district, possibly by taking one company from each, rather than by taking a complete battalion to represent a district.

Information on the government's intention was given in discussion before the committee of the House on the resolution of Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of finance, preliminary to a $100,000,000 war appropriations bill.

Additional Destroyers Will Add To Efficiency Of Canadian Navy

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, May 25.—While Canadian destroyers have been active in the production of smaller vessels for the Royal Navy as well as for the Royal Canadian Navy, construction of two new destroyers is now under way in British shipyards.

The new destroyers, building of which was announced this week by the defense minister, Hon. Norman Rogers, will bring the destroyer strength of the R.C.N. to nine and make it even more competent to carry on its job of defending Canadian coastal waters and assisting in Newfoundland and British West Indies duties.

HAVE HEAVY DUTIES
Already high officers of the Royal Navy have given high praise to the manner in which the R.C.N. is carrying out its wartime duties. In this way the job is much greater than in 1914-18.

Outlining the heavy duties of the R.C.N. for the House of Commons this week Prime Minister Mackenzie King said that in the first Great War, in connection with the Atlantic coast there was very little "casualty" because of the Royal Navy's undertakings.

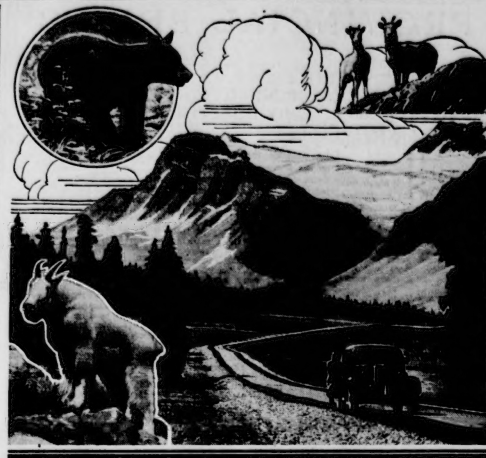

When hostilities started in 1914, the British ships owned by Canada were turned over to the Royal Navy for use in this war. The Canadian Navy functioned as a unit, directly under Canadian command, but in full cooperation with the Royal Navy.

And men of the R.C.N. now are at sea in light and heavy cruisers, week patroling Canadian ports and coasts, and assisting the Royal Navy in every work and colonial defense.

PRIZE IN BRITAIN
Mr. Rogers, both in the Commons and in a National broadcast said that on his recent trip to the United Kingdom senior naval officers had praised this growing arm of the Canadian fleet.

The two new vessels will be on the British coast, larger, more heavily armed and carrying more powerful than any present Canadian ship. This class is one of the latest types of destroyers in service with the Royal Navy.

The ships are of 1,500 tons while the largest ship now in the Canadian naval service, the destroyer

Columbia Icefield Highway New Thrill In Rockies

The newly completed Columbia Icefield highway, leading northward from Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies, will provide unique motorist thrills when it is officially opened for traffic in July. The new road, which cuts through one of the most beautiful sections of the mountain playground, furnishes direct access to the great Columbia Icefield, 150 square miles in extent, whose melting ice is the source of rivers which eventually find their way to three oceans, the Pacific, the Arctic and the Atlantic via Hudson Bay.

The highway runs through the very heart of the great mountain chain. It follows the valley of a succession of wild, tumbling rivers and passes through a series of great mountain passes, including the great Columbia Icefield, 150 square miles in extent, whose melting ice is the source of rivers which eventually find their way to three oceans, the Pacific, the Arctic and the Atlantic via Hudson Bay.

Modern Kitchen Boon in Summer

The coffee percolator, electric grill and clock are the only signs by which it is possible to recognize that the ideal kitchen above is the same room as that at the right. Apart from the transformed appearance, the difference in labor of keeping it clean is obvious.

In the sultry summer weather happy is the housewife who is able to work in a planned kitchen. Not that there is any less cooking and washing up but that it is so much easier to get it done.

Few home improvements are as desirable to the housewife as a modern kitchen, and few as easily obtainable, because the main features of a planned kitchen are pre-fabricated. It is simply an assembly of matching, standardized units arranged for maximum economy of space, steps and time.

The basic units of the planned kitchen are the sink, the range and the storage cabinets or cupboards, including refrigerator. The idea of kitchen planning really started with the most important feature, the sink, at which the housewife spends the greatest part of her kitchen time. To design the best type sink, the plumbing industry collaborated with home economic experts and found that a height of 36 inches with a depth from front to rear of 28 inches was most comfortable for the average woman to work at without stooping or stretching.

Proved steel had proved to be a first-class material for office equipment, the new model of the sink was mounted in handsome steel cabinets, providing storage space for utensils and containing racks for dish towels.

The new sink had so much style that it out-moded everything else in the kitchen of yesterday. Manufacturers quickly designed cabinets and ranges to conform to the new streamlined style and with dimensions conforming to the standard of convenience already established for the sink, and to each other. As a result various combinations of them may be fitted into all sizes and shapes of rooms without special construction being necessary.

The cabinets are of three kinds: base, wall and vertical. The base cabinets aligned with sink and range and of the same height and depth provide working surfaces of greater convenience, and more easily cleaned than the old kitchen table. Wall cabinets are those which are placed above the work surface while the vertical cabinets are most useful for long handled implements such as brooms and mops. The well constructed cabinet has insulated sides and rubber buffers on doors and drawers to deaden sound and ensure a silent kitchen.

Many interesting accessories have been designed to add to the convenience of using the cabinets. There is a removable wooden bread board to fit in the top drawer of a base cabinet; large wire trays for the vegetable storage cabinet; sugar and meal drawer, divided into compartments and metal lined; a sliding flour bin for a wall cabinet or a wire bin for a vertical cabinet. Office efficiency has suggested a "filing system" for baking pans, trays and pie plates by means of a rack fitted inside a drawer.

One of the upshots below the sink is a handy place for a garbage receptacle the cover of which lifts as the cupboard door is opened. Other cabinets made with drawers

Beautification Drive Progressing Apace As Leagues Improve Sites

Throughout Edmonton the greatest clean-up paint-up campaign in the city's history is now in progress, the citizens' answer to the urging of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the annual beautification campaign.

Lateness of the season has delayed start on gardening work, but officials of the chamber are confident that entries for the annual competition will be well above the average of last year.

Necessity for having entries put in at once is stressed by the committee in charge of the competition so that judges may make their initial inspection.

Leagues which have entered the contest to date are Eastwood, winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy last year; King Edward Park, second place league last year; Strathcona Centre, and Alberta Avenue league, officials of which are confident the district will place high on the prize list.

There are 23 community leagues in the city and it is anticipated that most of them will enter in this competition.

The prizes offered in the contest are the trophy and $25 to the winner, and of $10, $10 and $5 in shrubs supplied by the city for second, third and fourth prizes.

The contest is for the beautification of community league grounds by seeding to grass, landscaping, planting trees, shrubs, flowers or rockeries in a plan in the community district.

JUDGING
Judges appointed by the Edmonton Horticultural Society make their initial visit to the grounds directly an entry in the competition has been received. About September 15 they make another inspection and award the prize according to the results.

According to improvement shown in the interval between first and final inspections.

Entries may be placed with Hugh Chapman, 417 Empire building, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce city beautification committee.

Plan Announced For Movement Of Danish Vessels

NEW YORK, May 25.—The British ministry of shipping in New York announced yesterday a plan proposed by the Allies under which Danish vessels, now tied up in neutral ports, could move freely around the world.

The proposal suggested the ships be transferred to British or French flags with the understanding they would be re-transferred to the Danes at the end of the war and that the British and French would pay for their use.

If the proposal were not accepted, Danish-owned ships would be subject to seizure as prizes of war, since Denmark is now occupied by the Germans, the ministry said.

SPECIAL PRAYER IS AUTHORIZED

The following prayer has been recommended for use in the Lutheran churches of the Missouri Synod of the Alberta and British Columbia districts by authorities in charge.

O Almighty God, supreme Ruler and Governor of all things, who art a strong tower of defense to them that fear Thee, and whose power no creature is able to resist, unto us who are very weak and in our country's need. Reckon not against us our infirmities and ingratitude for the manifold blessings, both temporal and spiritual, which Thy merciful hand has placed to bestow upon us in this land of freedom. So rule our hearts, we beseech Thee, that in acknowledgment of our sin and guilt we come to Thee with the plea for pardon, trusting in the all-sufficient merits of Thy Son Jesus Christ, our only Saviour. ## Your Figure, Madame!

By IDA JEAN KAIN

So you shy away from reducing for fear that it will make you look older? Whether that is your honest belief or merely an excuse, the brutal truth is that the extra pounds are padding your birthdays.

It seems as if it is always making the promise that it will do so to normal weight will give any woman back a few years of her lost youth—provided she does so scientifically. But here's proof: a letter that declares the writer is now a whole decade younger since reducing. She tells the whole story:

"On January 1, 1940, I weighed 160 lbs. I was a size 20. I was doing so something about me. At that time

ENEMY ALIENS FAILING REPORT ARE PROSECUTED

Enemy aliens in Alberta have been prosecuted for failing to register and failing to report to police headquarters as required by the law, according to RCMP officers.

Word from Regina on Saturday stated that Attorney General J. G. Macdonald has announced that a number of aliens was to be made and that immediate prosecution would be launched against aliens either failing to register or failing to report themselves regularly as required.

Check of RCMP officers here disclosed that fact that this has been done in Alberta since the war began and that those who have only been checked, but have been prosecuted in cases where the law was infringed.

In the House of Commons, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, announced that the enemy alien situation was well in hand and that close check-up was being made.

2,000,000th Man Called For War Duty In Britain

LONDON, May 23.—Britain's 2,000,000th man called to register under the National Service Act among the thousands who signed on today with the 1912 group of labor exchanges throughout the country.

Those enrolled already number 1,800,000, with the total today expected to bring in another 200,000. Most of those registered today are aged 27, but many others had attained the age of 28 since the Royal proclamation at the beginning of the year. A large proportion were married men.

This is a scene in the Rundle Centenary Pageant staged at Victoria Park on Empire Day. On the stage in snow, Rundle portrayed by Rev. J. Gordon Brown, minister of Robertson United church, in a scene with Nookapung, chief of the Cree Indians, played by Ralph Loder. The altitudes to the right of the characters depict Fort Edmonton. At the left is a scene over the brow of the hill can be seen the legislative buildings, on the side of the old Hudson's Bay Company fort. Also shown are the first few rows of the large audience, the largest attending any of the holiday events.

8,000 See Pageant Marking Labors Of Missionary Rundle

Estimated crowd of 8,000 persons thronged to Victoria Park Friday afternoon to witness "The Shining Century," a pageant commemorating the centenary of the arrival in Alberta of Rev. Robert Terrill Rundle, first resident Protestant missionary in this province. Hundreds of automobiles made their way to the park, now in full leaf and presenting a memorable appearance. Many spectators came in busses, specially commissioned for the occasion, while hundreds walked.

Not among the leaves, tall poplars for the most part, the pageant was an impressive re-enactment of many of the outstanding incidents and scenes of the eight years residence by Rev. Robert Rundle in the area which later became Alberta.

The setting bore a replica of Fort Edmonton, which brought first-hand historical data to the scene, as this re-enactment was only a short distance from the site on which Fort Edmonton stood.

Among the spectators were Premier and Mrs. Albert Abner, who in an afternoon of making several visits, found time to attend a goodly portion of the pageant.

Had it been possible—perhaps it was not—a better location for the pageant would have been to have the stage at a selected spot in the foot of the bank leading to Victoria Park, so that the audience could have seen the stage, comfortable bank and see everything.

The pageant itself merits the warmest praise. Historic Fort Edmonton, with its towers, fortifications, and other interesting incidents, lived anew.

Witness by Rev. J. C. Stephens, superintendent of All Peoples Mission, the pageant centered around the arrival of Rev. Robert Rundle and his valuable work among the Indians.

The story depicted Rundle's departure from his home at Mayno, Cornwall, England.

Different scenes show Rundle's arrival in Edmonton and discussion with the Hudson's Bay Company, his acceptance of Christianity was the reason for his being remaining out of the Hudson's Bay.

The moving scene was that in which Rundle decided to leave for England on account of illness. Rundle and Macdonald seal a compact in blood, with the latter promising to make him a native of the Hills of Peace.

In all there were 11 scenes in the pageant all of which were skillfully presented. The pageant was a triumph throughout the acting was of a high order.

TITLE ROLE. In the title role was Rev. J. Gordon Brown, minister of Robertson United church, who gave a moving stirring performance. He caught the spirit of the missionary and made every word, every action tell. His was a performance to be long remembered.

Robert Haskins, who has won widespread fame by his amateur dramatic productions acting as a cast as Evans, and he, too, gave a convincing performance, one that fully substantiated the verity of drama festival productions in making his Canada's outstanding thespian of last year.

Ralph Loder carried out the heavy assignment of Macdonald in most efficient fashion. It was a difficult role, admirably handled in the last scene. This role was enacted by Rev. R. B. Steinhardt. Pupils of Indian residential school were present to lend atmosphere to the pageant.

SEVER BRIGADE. Members of the Voyageurs Canoe Club, forming the river brigade, made an impressive contribution to the cause.

Others associated with the production who contributed to the success of the pageant and who performed specialized roles in one or another of the phases of the presentation were the following: Robert Pearson as general director; John Pharis Ringwood as Nookapung; John Haskins as Rundle; Mrs. G. M. Corrie, costumeur; J. Haskins as his excellent work in conducting the choir; and G. A. Nevan for services as a critic. Richard and Mrs. Macdonald, Miss Pharis, John Ketter of the Hudson's Bay Company, and C. D. Blaine of the Hudson's Bay Company, proprietors.

The pageant as a whole moved

Famed Northern Fliers Now Are Instructors For Canada's Warbirds

By LOREN BRUCE Canadian Press Staff Writer

An Canada's war organization for turning out skilled airmen for the allied crusade against Germany swings into stride, many men who pioneered the success of the bush lines for the war effort are finding their niche in the scheme.

But even before they actually took active assignments with the Royal Canadian Air Force and the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan these men had made a contribution to the Dominion's war effort in the air. By their exploits they inspired in Canadian youth a desire to fly.

Many of them were flying mail and supplies to make a merry trip of the bush lines for the war effort. Sky-riding around the rim of the world, they gathered experience and knowledge they could get nowhere else but nevertheless of great value in any air service.

Today some of these northern airmen are engaged imparting flying knowledge to youngsters enrolled in the R.C.A.F. Others are on coastal patrol work and still others, remaining civilians, are contributing their share as instructors.

Among those who have abandoned the bush lines for the war effort are such veterans as Capt. Winifred Stan McMillan, Harry Winifred, Archie Van Heer, Tim Mahoney, Jack Harriet and Will Cameron. North of the provinces these names are anonymous with service. They are a part of the breed that helped roll back the frontier of the Canadian bush line for the war effort.

Van Heer, Mahoney and Harriet are bush pilots for the war effort, operating out of Vancouver, where Cameron, Doug Gordon and Dick Gladden are in training at Camp Borden. Ian Innes-Taylor, a former member of the R.C.A.F., left his post with MacKenzie Air Service when war broke out and re-enrolled in the bush line to serve as an instructor at Camp Borden.

In Edmonton, where the bush line is in its heyday, the bush line has become more technical and intricate.

Playing today is a complicated business and a man has to have plenty of education in flying. Since he learned to fly the bush line, Captain May told the Canadian Press.

Since last September the Edmonton Club, under an agreement with the Dominion government, has been giving preliminary training to 10 students.

NEW EQUIPMENT TO CUT PRICE OF NORTH FUEL

Substantial reduction in the price of gasoline and fuel oil required by aviation transport companies operating in the far north, will result from the new equipment that will be installed at Fort Norman this summer, it was reported here Saturday.

To supervise installation of the refinery, Ronald MacKinnon, of Imperial Oil Ltd., production department, flew north Saturday in a Canadian Airways Ltd. plane piloted by North Saskatchewan.

Until now the company has been refining at Fort Norman only low grade gasoline and oil that were resalable for use in airplanes.

With the new equipment high grade gasoline and oil will be produced and this will mean a big saving to Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg and other cities with planes operating on the far northern routes.

Equipment for the refinery is now on the way north and Mr. MacKinnon will supervise installation and remain at Fort Norman until production of the high grade fuel has commenced.

Crew of 11 men went north by plane Saturday to work in the new refinery.

Driver Charged George Townsend, taxi driver, was charged with dangerous driving by police Saturday as a result of the car he was operating striking a parked car on 96th street at 110th avenue. Townsend is alleged to have struck the rear of a car belonging to W. Henning, 11941 103rd street.

Car Maintenance Of Greatest Importance For Drivers

Autos Are Built With Structural Precision; Upkeep Is Demanded

There are really no accidents insofar as mechanical failure is concerned in the modern automobile. This may sound like an exaggeration but it is not so when one examines the statement with care.

Structural defects will not survive the rigid tests manufacturers of modern motor vehicles subject them to. It is therefore in the main merely a question of maintenance and there is absolutely no excuse for the motorist driving a car not mechanically perfect.

Attempting to drive a car that is not 100 per cent efficient and sound is committing a social crime, despite the fact there is often no immediate unfortunate result. Still the cold, relentless fact remains that the person who drives a car that is in poor condition is a potential killer.

HALF MILLION KILLED

Statistics show that half a million persons died as the result of automobile accidents on the continent in the last 25 years. An additional 500,000 are maimed and injured annually. In addition to the sorrow involved in so much suffering there is the financial liability to the nation that must be yearly entered in the red ink column.

This continent has the best and most numerous automobile equipment in the entire world. It has also the best and most sophisticated facilities for maintaining this equipment in first class condition of all areas of the entire surface. In addition there are thousands of the most competent technicians in the world, ready and willing to keep these excellently designed and constructed cars in the best of condition.

TOLL IS APPALLING

Yet in spite of unexcelled construction and unsurpassed facilities of maintenance the toll in human lives and suffering from accidents is still appalling. Faulty brakes, defective steering mechanism, poor headlights, worn tires and numerous other potential sources of accident are far too numerous.

Unfortunately police are not clothed with authority to make arrests unless proof of a defect through supervision and enforcement of existing laws is of little avail without the honest cooperation of the motoring public.

FALSE ECONOMY

Driving with defective and worn equipment is the worst kind of economy. Apart from the great involved in cases of prosecution for fatal accidents and the amount of time and money lost in litigation, the motorist who lets his car become a menace on the highways is also apt to find his pocket hit far more than necessary through depreciation in value of his vehicle.

Edmonton motorists are concerned with the safety of their vehicles according to Sgt. Maj. Riddell. More and more motorists are realizing that good mechanical performance is vital to safe driving and a highly profitable investment. It is pointed out that police can only call attention to the importance of keeping cars in good repair. It is finally directly up to the motorist to see that his car is a safer Edmonition and that should be the objective of all.

There are 6000 instruments in the full kit of a dentist.

This Is What Happens To Careless Drivers

Serious injury and death lurk at every foot of the highway for careless drivers. Thousands of accidents such as the one depicted above occur every year; the majority of them could be avoided if drivers used the brake more and the accelerator less. Even though the safety factor in modern cars has been increased tremendously in the past few years, this will not protect the wanton motorist who has no thought for himself or others.

PLYMOUTH HAS SAFETY AWARD SECOND TIME

Gets Trophy For 1940 Design; 12 Requirements Are Listed

In competition with every car in every price range in the industry, Plymouth for the second consecutive year has been awarded "Safety Engineering's" annual trophy for safest auto design, according to an announcement by the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited.

The award was made by the safety magazine editor, Alfred M. Best, of 300 accident prevention experts in convention of the 11th annual eastern Safety Conference in New York city.

12 REQUIREMENTS
Checking the 1940 Plymouth with respect to 12 essential safety requirements, experts reported that they found only one of these capable of further improvement from the standpoint of safety. Plymouth was rated "excellent" on 11 points and "good" on the 12th. This was the industry's highest showing. The most safety car was one that was almost twice as safe as Plymouth.

company for outstanding achievement in altered bodies with electrically-welded roof, walls and floor from one perspective unit; the principle unit; the car with rubber and cotton padding wherever bumps might occur; door handles and window regulators curved inward to prevent catching sleeves or causing injury; safety glass throughout of special kinds adapted to each application; for pioneering design of hydraulic brakes and improvement to their present efficiency.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The initial part of a new photographic course made available to a group of blind students at the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind, as described by Paul Mitchell, assistant principal of the institute, "consists of studying light by comparing it to heat and sound waves. A photometer cell is connected to a sound mechanism, and each student passes his hand through the light beam playing on the cell. This operates the sound mechanism and the result of his action is heard by the student."

Holland's Royal Children In London Sanctuary

Now that the royal family of Holland have settled in London, the daily routine of the two children of Crown Princess Juliana, heiress to the throne, has been resumed. Here is a picture sent to New York by radio from London, as Princess Juliana wheeled the royal carriage through a London street. The carriage contains nine-month-old Princess Irene; strolling behind, in custody of a London Bobby, is Princess Beatrix, 2.

War Comes Nearer London As Barbed Wire Guards Vital Points

Cabled from London to New York this photo shows an armed sentry on duty outside the British Admiralty, which is protected by a maze of barbed wire—a strange sight in London, with access of Nazi parachute troops in Holland and Belgium in mind, British powers-that-be are taking extraordinary precautions to safeguard key positions throughout the country. A corps of anti-parachutists marksmen already has been organized with strength of 250,000 men who will do duty at points where parachute troops might attempt invasion. Note "Big Ben" in background.

British Transports Pouring Troops Into France

Troop transports are plying the English channel in a never-ending stream as British troops are rushed to the Belgian and French battle-fronts. Sentinels, left, are posted every hour of the day and night throughout the ship as they make the crossing. While one Tommy writes a letter home, another snatches 40 winks under an elaborately carved table, right, while making the crossing from England to France.

Hero Of Verdun

France's beloved Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 84-year-old World War hero of Verdun, author of the famous slogan "They shall not pass!" He has been recalled from the anti-aircraft to Spain to be Vice-Premier in Premier Reynaud's reconstructed war cabinet.

The Earl of Athlone Meets Canadian Doctors

Canada's new governor-general, the Earl of Athlone, has been seen at the Midwestern hospital in England, chatting with Canadian members of the Royal Army Medical Corps. The Earl of Athlone has always exerted a great influence on behalf of the medical betterment of the general public and is here seen as chairman of the hospital welcoming the Canadian medical officers.

Canadian Red Cross Cares for Soldiers

Canadian soldiers on leave in London, England, find things to their liking at the Canadian Red Cross Society's Maple Leaf Club, where they are provided with sleeping accommodation, meals and recreational facilities. The above picture was taken in the lounge. There have been over 5,000 bookings since the club opened early this year, and overflow have been dealt with frequently. The urgent need of a second such residential club has been studied, and it is now proposed to operate a 1,000-bed building in close cooperation with British army authorities, who have requested the Canadian Red Cross to take over the new institution. One of the services provided for the Canadian men at the Maple Leaf Club is that of cashing their pay cheques and, at their request, placing a small portion in a trust account. This simplified banking system was a great boon to soldiers during the last war.

Canada's Soldiers Becoming Proficient In Blitzkrieg Tactics

Grimly determined to make themselves proficient in the use of the weapons so strongly favored by the Nazi legions of Hitler, Canadian troops are undergoing extensive training at Camp Borden in the use of mechanized equipment. The troops are shown (right) learning the correct way to blow up a bridge. The bayonet charge of the infantry still plays an important part in the art of war despite the mechanization of modern armies. Infantrymen of Canada's modern army are shown (left) as they learned the finer points of conducting a bayonet charge.

Steel Demons Fight For Mastery of French Soil

Massed thousands of huge German tanks like that pictured at right, some of them 80-ton monsters mauling weighing France's 70-ton "land battleships" formed the battering ram that advanced into French territory. Regulations said tank projectiles were ineffective against their extraordinarily armored sides. Their advance seemed irresistible, until the French command turned to their set of World War days—the famed 75 mm. field gun.

England Protects Her Ports

The reasons do not designate this particular port but describe it as "somewhere on the east coast of England." Members of the Auxiliary Pioneer Corps are shown erecting barbed-wire fences to keep "undesirable persons" from approaching the waterfront. These same fences, it is pointed out, would be very efficacious in case of an enemy force attempting a landing.

500TH YEAR OF PRINTING CELEBRATED

Craftsmen Plan To Observe Movable Type Invention June 17 To 22

Members of Edmonton's printing and allied trades will celebrate the 500th anniversary of the invention of movable type—the foundation of present printing—during the week June 17 to 22, inclusive. The celebration is being held as part of a Graphic Arts week which is being sponsored by the printing trade throughout Canada and the United States.

Displays of graphic arts will be shown in window exhibits, and the main display will be staged in the public library, permission for the use of space in the library being granted at a recent meeting of the library board.

In addition to the displays, speakers will address service clubs, outlining the growth of the industry, and giving the history of the revolutionary inventions which have brought printing to its present highly specialized standard.

The week's activities will be climaxed by a banquet to be held at the Macdonald hotel.

Field Comforts Fund Supplies Troops With Their Smokes Cheaply

Taking up a splendid work here it was left off at the end of the World War of 1914-1918, the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire have instituted a Field Comforts Fund by which tobacco, cigarettes, chocolate and other comforts will be forwarded to members of the Canadian Active Service Force serving overseas.

The boxes "never" there, appreciate few gifts more than their "smokes" and chocolate bars. You will want to send some of these comforts and the I.O.D.E. will help you.

Arrangements have been made with Canadian transportation companies to carry these comforts to the boys free. Excise also is waived. Therefore money expended through the I.O.D.E. Field Comforts Fund will go further than that spent by the individual.

The Bulletin is assisting the I.O.D.E. and will be glad to receive contributions, which will be acknowledged in these columns. Send in your contribution and it will be forwarded to the I.O.D.E. Previously acknowledged $25.00.

LARGE NUMBER VACANCIES IN LEGISLATURE

Since 1935 Nine Seats Have Been Opened

Vacancy in the Vegreville provincial constituency marks the ninth created since the present provincial government took office in 1935. Of these eight, vacancies occurred in the eighth election legislature and one has occurred since the last election on March 21.

Of the nine vacancies, five were caused by re-election contests and two were acclamations. One seat was left unfilled until the general election and whether there will be a contest in Vegreville will not be definitely known until June 10, nomination day. Election day is June 20.

First vacancies occurred soon after the 1935 election when Okotoks-High River and Athabasca were opened for Premier William Aberhart and the late C. Ross respectively, neither of whom ran in the general election.

HOWSON TO BENCH

Next vacancy was caused when Mr. Justice W. R. Howson resigned leadership of the Liberal party to go on the bench and his seat was won by Dr. Walter Morrish in June, 1938.

Next vacancy was Groulx, caused by the death of L. A. Groulx, K.C. Liberal. In the by-election J. M. Tremblay held the seat for the Liberals.

George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal, Edmonton, died in June, 1937, and in the by-election in the fall of that year, E. L. Gray was elected as a Unionist candidate. Later in the same year Hans Wright, S.C., Lethbridge, resigned to take a business post and Dr. Peter Campbell won the seat for the Unionist.

WINS ATHABASCA

C. C. Ross died in 1938, and C. M. Tulew was elected in Athabasca. He had won the seat in 1935 and secured re-election for Mr. Ross.

Then in April, 1939, W. E. Hayes, S.C., Stony Plain, died. This seat remained open until the general election when Mrs. R. E. Wood won it for the Social Credit.

Now George Woychik has resigned in Vegreville and a make way for Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer.

RAPID PROBE FOR RECORDS IS UNDERWAY

Rapid study of the records seized by R.C.M.P. from offices of three insurance adjusters and several garages is being carried out so that the companies can continue to do business, it was reported Saturday. Firms concerned report that business is hindered and hampered as a result of having no records or books.

The police at 8 p.m. Thursday seized records from offices and garages in this city, Calgary and Lethbridge.

The three insurance adjusters concerned are Lillian Adjustment Agency, 331-32 Taylor building; Day and Minto, 100 Agency building; and Bowmaker, Cross and Taylor, 606-607 McLeod building.

No charges have been laid and the investigation now underway will determine whether there is ground for legal action.

Staffs of the adjustment agencies were crammed for lack of books on Saturday.

W. D. KING GOES TO OTTAWA FOR PRICE PARLEY

Co-operating with the Dominion government in preventing wartime profiteering and giving protection against the practice to the Alberta people, the provincial government has sent W. D. King, deputy minister of trade and industry and chairman of the Alberta Price Spreads Board, to Ottawa to confer with officials of the Dominion War Time Prices Board on the sugar price increases.

Mr. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, in announcing the action, stated it arose out of the increase in price of sugar by 35 cents a 100 pounds.

The best sugar industry, which is rapidly becoming one of Alberta's main industries, always has had prices regulated by the industry in line with the price of the raw sugar.

As a result of the increase, Ottawa has taken over all processed sugar from the refineries at the mid-price and is re-selling it at the new price in order to keep prices at a level. As far as Alberta sugar is concerned there has been no change in production cost and no war losses and therefore no apparent reason for the increase.

We hope to find out whether the increase in sugar is justifiable in the light of the Alberta production cost, so that our public can be adequately protected and so we can continue to give full support to the Dominion, said Mr. Manning.
